NEWS RELEASE

November 8, 2005

LONGORIA 174 #1 WELL UPDATE

(Houston) EnerGulf Resources Inc. (TSXV: ENG) is pleased to announce an update to its Longoria 174 #1 well in Duval County, Texas operated by Killam Oil Company.

The well was drilled to a total depth of 12,825 feet and encountered the objective horizons anticipated being the Yegua and the Hinnant sands. Electric logs run by Halliburton indicate potentially productive oil and gas sands in the Yegua formation with the deeper Hinnant sands being non-productive. A completion rig has arrived on location and operations have commenced to test the Yegua sands.

EnerGulf, through its wholly owned subsidiary EnerGulf Corporation holds a 5% working interest in the Longoria 174 #1 and has paid 5% of the drilling and completion costs.

Commenting for EnerGulf, Jeff Greenblum, Chairman of the Board stated, "We continue to be optimistic about the outcome of our South Texas drilling program. The Longoria 174 #1 is currently being completed with testing to begin immediately thereafter. EnerGulf has elected to participate with Killam Oil Co. in South Texas in an effort to establish operational cash flow at a time of historic energy prices while limiting our capital exposure by participating for a minor interest in each well. We look forward to the results of the Longoria 174 #1 and to continued exploration in South Texas through our association with Killam."
